

Cycle routes in Medway

ENVIRONMENT

KEY

- Medway Cycle Routes
- Sign-posted routes where cyclists will be on an aid. Many routes do not have signs and cyclists should be prepared for this.
- These indicate where off-road cycle routes have been implemented and where they are planned to be implemented.
- Traffic-free routes lead into a network of routes. These do not include any crossing the river. Other routes cross the river but have been considered by cyclists as suitable for cycling.
- Quiet routes for cyclists advised by Medway Council. These do not include any crossing the river and are suitable for cyclists of most ability who do not wish to cross the river.
- Routes crosses private land - cyclists to be discreet
- Cycle lane
- Railway station
- Cycle parking available
- Site of interest

1 Ranscombe Farm Nature Reserve
Ranscombe Farm is Medway's newest nature site, which was created by the TV company and conservationist David Attenborough in the summer of 2005.
The 100-acre landscape features nature and sporting areas from the River Medway to the Ranscombe Farm Nature Reserve. It is a site of local importance and is a natural haven for a wide range of wildlife.
